

I am writing about the expansion of LPFM stations. I'm concerned about the effect it will have on KLOVE radio in which I'm a contributor. KLove is a station that I can allow my children to listen to without worrying about content. KLOVE is an uplifting, positive, station that brings value to the community. It is the only station of it's kind in my community, and I have no other way of accessing similar stations. KLove makes a difference in the lives of the people who listen, unlike most commercialized stations. It's purpose is to provide family friendly and encouraging content. Please don't take away my KLOVE, its what gets me through the day!
